

Aspect Therapy & Assessments Centre

173 Wellington Street, Flemington Victoria

At Autism Spectrum Australia (Aspect), we understand that when it comes to autism, there is no “one size fits all” approach. We celebrate the differences and value the individual strengths and interests of the people we work with.

With over 50 years’ experience, our team of professionals work together to support individuals, parents, carers and families. From diagnosis and assessments, early intervention and social groups to therapies, we provide advice and support throughout the life stages, from the early years to adulthood. Everything we do is informed by research and evidence, ensuring we offer the best services and supports.

Our comfortable Victorian Flemington offices are conveniently located in a service hub in close proximity to hospitals and within walking distance of public transport. At these offices, we provide services for pre- schoolers, school-aged children, adolescents and adults.
