- (b) employees of employers listed in Schedule 1 as defined in this Agreement who perform the work outlined in schedule 4; and
- (c) Australian Education Union.

3 EMPLOYER REPRESENTATION

Early Learning Association Australia shall have the right to represent employers with respect to any matter arising from this Agreement.

4 DATE AND PERIOD OF OPERATION

- 4.1 This Agreement will commence to operate 7 days after the date it is approved by the Fair Work Commission.
- 4.2 The Agreement has a nominal expiry date of 30 September 2024.
- 4.3 The parties agree to take all steps required to commence negotiations for a new Agreement not later than nine months prior to the nominal expiry date of this Agreement.

5 NO FURTHER CLAIMS

This Agreement is made in full settlement of all claims arising from the Unions log of claims dated December 2018. There will be no further claims made during the term of this Agreement with no further salary increases before 1 October 2024.

6 ACCESS TO THE AGREEMENT AND THE NATIONAL EMPLOYMENT STANDARDS

The employer shall ensure that copies of this Agreement and the NES are available to all employees covered by this Agreement either on a notice-board which is conveniently located at or near the workplace, or through electronic means, whichever makes them more accessible.

7 NATIONAL EMPLOYMENT STANDARDS AND THIS AGREEMENT

- 7.1 The NES and this Agreement contain minimum conditions of employment for employees covered by this Agreement.

- 7.2 Nothing in this Agreement is intended to contravene or exclude a term of the NES. If a term of this Agreement does contravene a term of the NES, the NES will apply to the extent of the contravention or exclusion.

8 INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS PRINCIPLES

- 8.1 The parties commit to the following industrial relations principles:

 - (d) Work within a progressive industrial relations culture to create a system of highly effective early childhood services with effective workplace practices; and
 - (e) Recognition of an appropriate role for workplace representatives.

9 CONSULTATION

- 9.1 The parties agree that consultation is not the perfunctory advice on what is about to happen. This is a common misconception. Consultation is providing the individual, or other relevant persons, with a bona fide opportunity to influence the decision maker. Consultation is not joint decision making or even a negative or frustrating barrier to the prerogative of management to make decisions. Consultation allows the decision-making process to be informed, particularly as it may affect the employment prospects of individuals.

- (b) the employee or employees advise the employer of the identity of the representative;

9.6 As soon as practicable after making its decision, the employer must:

- (a) discuss with the relevant employees:
 - (i) the introduction of the change; and
 - (ii) the likely effects of the change on employees; and
 - (iii) measures the employer is taking to reduce or mitigate the adverse effect of the change on the employees; and
- (b) give in writing to the affected employees and their representatives (if any) all relevant information about the changes including:
 - (i) the nature of the change proposed; and
 - (ii) the expected effects of the change on employees; and
 - (iii) any other matters likely to affect employees.

9.7 However, the employer is not required to disclose confidential or commercially sensitive information to the relevant employees.

9.8 The employer must give prompt and genuine consideration to matters raised about the major change by the relevant employees.

9.9 If a clause in this agreement provides for a major change to production, program, organisation, structure or technology in relation to the enterprise of the employer, the requirements set out in sub-clauses 9.3(a), 9.4 and 9.6 are taken not to apply.

9.10 In this clause, a major change is likely to have a significant effect on employees if it results in:

- (a) the termination of the employment of employees; or

- (c) the loss of, or reduction in, job opportunities (including opportunities for promotion or tenure); or
- (d) the alteration of hours of work; or
- (e) the need to retrain employees; or

9.12 The relevant employees may appoint a representative for the purposes of the procedures in this clause.

The employer must recognise the representative if:

- (a) a relevant employee appoints, or relevant employees appoint, a representative for the purposes of consultation; and
- (b) the employee or employees advise the employer of the identity of the representative.

9.13 As soon as practicable after proposing to introduce the change, the employer must:

- (a) discuss with the relevant employees the introduction of the change; and
- (b) provide to the employees and representatives all relevant information about the proposed change including:
 - (i) the nature of the change proposed and when it is to begin; and
 - (ii) the expected effects of the change on employees;
 - (iii) any other matters likely to affect employees.
- (c) invite the relevant employees to give their views about the impact of the change (including any impact in relation to their family or caring responsibilities).

 - (ii) applicable occupational health and safety legislation would not permit the work to be performed; or
 - (iii) the work is not appropriate for the employee to perform; or
 - (iv) there are other reasonable grounds for the employee to refuse to comply with the direction.
- (f) No party shall be prejudiced as to the final resolution by the continuance of work.
- (g) A nominated representative of the employee or employer shall be entitled to participate in any discussion(s) conducted under these provisions subject to the giving of three business days' prior notice by either party or at an earlier time by mutual agreement.
